

Real World Skit

Two students discussing the big bang.

Student 1: Wow! Can you imagine what it must have been like when everything exploded and the whole universe came into existence? It must have been amazing!

Student 2: Ummm. I agree that creation is amazing. But I don't think that's the way it happened. I don't believe the big bang theory.

Student 1: What do you mean? Everyone believes it!

Student 2: Not me! I believe God's Word—the Bible. It tells me that God spoke and the entire universe was created by the power of His voice! And He did it all in only six days!

Student 1: You're kidding, right? You believe that?

Student 2: Yes. It is the only thing that makes sense. It is the only logical explanation. You can't blow ANYTHING up—like a big bang—and then have all the pieces come together to create something that makes sense. It's impossible! If I throw some wheels, wood, metal, plastic, and paint into the air at the same time, I am NOT going to get the new skateboard I want, no matter how many times I try.

Student 1: I wish that would happen!

Student 2: Well, yeah, but you know it will NEVER happen. And the same is true of the universe! No big bang could EVER create all of the wonderful, orderly, amazing things we see around us.

Student 1: Interesting. It makes sense, I guess. So you're never going to believe that the big bang happened?

Student 2: No. I'm going to believe what God's Word says—that there's an all-powerful God who created everything.
